THIRD-PARTY COMMENTS ON FALL 2017 SITE VISITS

Accreditation by ACAOM represents the Commission's judgment that an institution is satisfactorily achieving its educational mission and purposes and that it meets or exceeds the Commission's standards and criteria of accreditation.

The Commission values information provided by students, employees, and others in determining whether an institution's performance is consistent with the Standards of Accreditation and Commission policies and procedures. As a rule, third-party comments are general comments of a substantive nature about an accredited/pre-accredited institution or program.

The Commission hereby notifies students, employees and members of the public regarding the opportunity for third-party comments about the following member institutions with Fall 2017 comprehensive institutional or programmatic evaluations:

- American Academy of Acupuncture and Oriental Medicine, Roseville, MN
 - Renewal of accreditation: institutional, and Master's degree program – Oriental medicine
- California Institute of Integral Studies (American College of Traditional Chinese Medicine), San Francisco, CA
 - Renewal of accreditation: Postgraduate doctoral program (DAOM)
